200 ft Hyperbaric Chamber Dive

Oct15 Reimer Hyperbaric Chamber

As part of the Advanced OW Course, divers made a chamber run to a 200 ft depth, in a controlled, dry, pressurized environment. It is a great way to safely experience the effects of a deep dive.

DIVE TRIPS

NORTH CAROLINA TRIP JULY 10, 11, 12, 13. 2017

Come join the group travelling to Beaufort NC, boarding the Outrageous V to explore the amazing Atlantic Ocean.

Dive on a U-Boat, swim amongst our toothy friends, see rays, lionfish, maybe your dinner, artificial reef wrecks, barracuda, a big Chicken, the famous Piggly Wiggly.

Limited space. Book early!

Boat diving on wrecks.
Depths are between 50 and 100 + feet.
Advanced divers only.

Wiki Facts

Beaufort is a town in and the county seat of Carteret County, North Carolina, United States. Established in 1709, Beaufort is the third-oldest town in North Carolina. On February 1, 2012, Beaufort was ranked as "America's Coolest Small Town" by readers of Budget Travel Magazine.

Beaufort is located in North Carolina's "Inner Banks" region. In June of 1718 Blackbeard the pirate ran his flagship, the Queen Anne's Revenge and his sloop Adventure, aground near present day Beaufort Inlet, NC. The Queen Anne's Revenge was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 2004

SCUBA diving

In addition to a thriving sport fishing industry, Beaufort and surrounding areas are a popular SCUBA diving destination. The waters off the coast of North Carolina are often referred to as the Graveyard of the Atlantic, a legacy that attracts divers from all over the world.

One of the biggest draws to the Outer Banks is the opportunity to dive on the historic World War II German U-boat U-352. The wreck lies in about 110-115 feet (35 m) of water, and sits at a 45-degree list to starboard. The wreck scatter is within a 100m radius on a sand bottom.

IN THE NEWS...

Ontario's Invasive Species Act becomes Law November 2016!

On November 3, 2016, the Ontario Invasive Species Act, 2015, comes into effect. This statute provides Ontario with the power to make regulations prescribing priority invasive species and classifying them as either prohibited or restricted. This standalone piece of legislation was developed with the intent of holistically preventing and managing the introduction and spread of invasive species throughout Ontario and is the first of its kind in Canada.

Though species covered by this Act only represent a small fraction of the total number of invasive species that have already been introduced or have even become established in Ontario, by proposing the below listed priority species for regulation, Ontario is taking a significant step in ongoing efforts to prevent the introduction and spread of these and other invasives in the province. Additionally, the Ontario Government's objective in this regard is to continue to work with new and existing partners to fulfill the actions set out in the 2012 Ontario Invasive Species Strategic Plan, including the ongoing programs being developed and delivered by the Invasive Species Centre, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters Invasive Species Awareness Program and the Ontario Invasive Plant Council.

As the most efficient and cost-effective invasive species management strategy is prevention, a key objective of the Invasive Species Act is to prevent new invasive species from arriving and establishing in Ontario. Bighead carp, silver carp, grass carp, black carp, snakehead, stone moroko, zander, wels catfish, killer shrimp, yabby, golden mussel, hydrilla, Brazilian elodea, water soldier, European water chestnut, and parrot feather would be prohibited in Ontario under the proposed Regulations which support the implementation of the Invasive Species Act.
