"Fun for the entire family"

Join us for an afternoon of Exploration presented by the Ontario Underwater Council

Sunday, September 30th, 2018

1:30pm—4:00pm

Toronto Don Valley Hotel

Join renowned diver "Jill Heinerth" National Geographic "Explorer-In-Residence"

"Arctic on the Edge"

The polar region is warming more than twice as fast as the rest of the planet. That means that our northern geography is changing more rapidly than anywhere else on earth.

Jill Heinerth takes viewers on a journey following an iceberg from its calving ground in Greenland to Baffin Island and south down the Labrador Coast. The vision of ice from beneath the surface is both sublime and transitory. The underwater places Jill documents will never be seen again.

"The Water Brothers" stars of TVO series

The Water Brothers is an eco-adventure documentary series following brothers, Alex and Tyler Mifflin, as they explore the world, uncovering the most important water stories of our time. What are the problems, and where are the solutions to help us better protect our most precious resource. Join Alex & Tyler as they take you on this underwater adventure.

Frontiers of Exploration with George Kourounis

In a world with over seven billion people, it can be hard to believe that there are still places that humans have never set foot, or even laid eyes upon, but the spirit of exploration is still alive and well. From the deep oceans, to mysterious cave systems, remote jungles, and other hard to reach places, we are still learning so much about this rock we call home. Explorer George Kourounis shares his insights on the current state of exploration, the future of discovery, and recounts harrowing tales from some of his own explorations that have taken him to places where few.. and sometimes no-one has ever been before.
